Dear Agriculture, Food, & Natural Resource CTE Educator,

We are looking forward to hosting the 71st Tennessee Forestry Camp after a two-year break due to the global pandemic. This is one of the oldest camps of its kind in the nation behind Florida and Virginia. It's also the BEST!!

The Tennessee Department of Agriculture Division of Forestry and the Career and Technical Ag Educators across the state have long held a strong partnership in the support of this camp. The Division, now also in cooperation with the Tennessee Forestry Association, provides knowledgeable instructors with extensive forest management experience. You or your colleagues develop leadership skills through guidance as camp counselors, or by simply encouraging your students to attend. This partnership has held together for many decades. As we enter this 71st installment of camp, I am encouraged by what we have accomplished in terms of providing our youth with quality conservation education over the years.

Please take the time to review the accompanying information and application materials and encourage your students to consider enrolling. It is an experience of a lifetime and one in which we hope they will cherish and encourage younger students to attend in the future.

Sincerely,

Subject: 71st Tennessee Forestry Camp

Since 1950, Tennessee Forestry Camp has been providing a wonderful opportunity for high school students affiliated with Future Farmers of America (FFA) to discover and enhance their environmental conservation knowledge, skills, and ethics through the leadership and instruction of camp counselors and forestry professionals. This year we are pleased to invite you to encourage your FFA students to join us for another camp experience at Fall Creek Falls State Park, Sunday, May 29 through Friday, June 3, 2022.

The Tennessee Department of Agriculture Division of Forestry, in cooperation with the Tennessee Forestry Association, and the Tennessee Department of Education, Career and Technical Education Division continue to be avid supporters of Forestry Camp by providing knowledgeable instructors with extensive forest management experience, and developing leadership skills through the guidance of camp counselors, respectively. This support goes a long way in making camp fun and educational all while making it efficient to host camp at a reasonable fee. A flier accompanies this letter with more information about the details of camp.

Also, I encourage you to share the accompanying Forestry Camp brochure with your students. The brochure details much of the same information in the flier included in the package, but also gives a 'face' to some of these details. Hopefully it will provide the students with a glimpse of camp life and some of the fun and learning experiences they'll have should they decide to attend.

If you know of potential campers, please provide them with the enclosed application form to be filled out by them and returned to you. Your collections should then be returned to the provided address on the form by May 10 (late registrations incur a higher fee). Current freshman, sophomores, and juniors ('22-'23 sophomores, juniors and seniors) are eligible. Students who attended previously are ineligible to attend again. Sixty (60) campers (up to 4 per FFA chapter; negotiable if spots are still available after May 10) will be admitted on a first come, first served basis determined by postmark.

Parents or guardians must provide insurance coverage and furnish the information requested on the application; otherwise we cannot admit the student. Students should be aware that they must bring insurance cards, claim forms, or other items they might need if they have to go to the hospital.

The camper registration fee is $95, which includes room and board for the entire week. After May 10, the late registration fee is $120. Should the camper decide not to go, the fee will be reimbursed if notice is given by Wednesday, May 25.

Teachers will be advised by email of accepted campers soon after receipt of applications.

Thank you for your participation.

2022 Tennessee Forestry Camp
